

GUIDE TO LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS PRACTICE

June 2015

THE PERSONNEL APPEALS BOARD

William E. Persina, Chair
Robert F. Hermann, Vice-Chair
Susan R. Winfield, Member
John L. Braxton, Member
David P. Clark, Member

BETH L. DON, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
SUSAN P. INZEO, SOLICITOR
SUE SUNG FARLEY, SENIOR ATTORNEY
VANESSA GALLAGHER, DIRECTOR, EEO OVERSIGHT
PATRICIA REARDON-KING, CLERK OF THE BOARD

STUART MELNICK, GENERAL COUNSEL
FRANK J. MACK, SENIOR TRIAL ATTORNEY
BRIAN NUTERANGELO, SENIOR TRIAL ATTORNEY
DARIAN C. JACKSON, PARALEGAL SPECIALIST

CONTACTING THE BOARD

Address:	Personnel Appeals Board, GAO Room 1566 441 G Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20548
Telephone:	202-512-6137
NexTalk-VM (for the hearing impaired):	202-512-7506
Fax:	202-512-7525
E-mail:	pab@gao.gov

CONTACTING THE BOARD OFFICE OF GENERAL COUNSEL

Address:	PAB/Office of General Counsel, GAO Room 1562 441 G Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20548
Telephone:	202-512-7507
NexTalk-VM (for the hearing impaired):	202-512-7506
Fax:	202-512-7522
E-mail:	pabogc@gao.gov

GUIDE TO
LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS PRACTICE
BEFORE THE PERSONNEL APPEALS BOARD

Introduction.....	1
PAB Regulations	1
Procedural Guidance	2
The Personnel Appeals Board Labor Relations Functions	2
Representation Proceedings.....	4
Introduction	4
Who May File Petitions.....	5
When Representation Petitions May be Filed	5
When a Representation Petition Would be Barred.....	5
Contents of Representation Petition	7
How and Where Petitions are Filed	10
Pre-investigation Proceedings.....	10
How Representation Petitions are Processed	12
How Elections are Conducted	14
Unfair Labor Practice Proceedings	18
Introduction	18
Examples of Potential Management Violations	19
Examples of Potential Union Violations.....	20
Filing a Charge Alleging Unfair Labor Practice with PAB/OGC.....	21
Mediation	22
The Hearing Process.....	22
Time Limitations for Filing Allegations of Unfair Labor Practices	23
Standards of Conduct for Labor Organizations	24
Standards of Conduct for a Labor Organization Seeking to Represent GAO Employees	24
Reports Filed by Labor Organizations	25
Filing Allegations of Violation of Standards of Conduct	25

Individuals not Allowed to Participate in the Management of a Labor Organization or Act as a Representative of a Labor Organization	26
Participation in a Strike or Certain Picketing	26
Charging a Labor Organization with Violations of Standards of Conduct	26
Negotiability Determinations	27
Negotiability Disputes	27
Filing an Appeal of a Negotiability Determination with the Board	27
Bargaining Impasses	28
Negotiation Impasses	28
Filing a Petition for Resolution of Impasse.....	30
PAB Procedures for Resolution of Impasse	31
Review of Arbitration Awards	32
Introduction	32
Time Limits	33
Filing an Exception	33
Grounds for Review of an Arbitrator's Award	34
When the Board will not Consider an Exception to an Arbitration Award.....	34
Board's Decision and Order on Exceptions.....	35
GLOSSARY.....	36

GUIDE TO LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS PRACTICE BEFORE THE PERSONNEL APPEALS BOARD

Introduction

This Guide outlines the procedures for labor-management relations practice at the Personnel Appeals Board (PAB or Board) of the Government Accountability Office (GAO) established by regulations and policies of the PAB. It is designed to provide administrative information and procedural guidance regarding the labor-management processes at the PAB.¹ The Guide is intended to give an overview of the Board's processes, provide a basic explanation of terms and procedures, and point to sources for more specific answers.

PAB Regulations

PAB regulations² contain important information concerning such requirements as the deadlines for filing with the Board, the number of copies required to be filed, the content of the filings and other matters. This Guide contains much of the information found in the regulations. The Board looks to the Federal Labor Relations Authority (FLRA) regulations and policies for guidance. However, the FLRA's regulations are not binding on the PAB and given the differences in structure between the PAB and FLRA, identical procedures are not appropriate for every situation.

¹ The GAO Personnel Act, 31 U.S.C. §731 et seq., guarantees the rights of GAO employees to form, join, assist, or not form, join or assist an employee organization freely and without fear of penalty or reprisal. 31 U.S.C. §732(e).

² The Board's formal regulations are codified at 4 C.F.R. Parts 27 and 28.

Procedural Guidance

Procedural questions may be directed to the Clerk of the Board. The Clerk of the Board may not provide substantive legal advice. Some additional assistance may be available from the Board's investigative and prosecutorial arm, the Personnel Appeals Board Office of General Counsel (PAB/OGC), in the form of oral advice responding to inquiries from employees about labor-management relations.

The Personnel Appeals Board Labor Relations Functions

The Personnel Appeals Board is an independent entity established by the GAO Personnel Act of 1980 (GAOPA) to serve as the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Merit System Protection Board, Federal Labor Relations Authority and the Office of Special Counsel for GAO employees.³

In the exercise of its employment law responsibilities, the PAB adjudicates disputes, issues decisions, and orders corrective or disciplinary action, as appropriate, in cases involving employees (and applicants for employment) of GAO. For guidance on pursuing disputes regarding equal employment opportunity or issues regarding allegations of prohibited personnel practices, please see the PAB's Guide to Practice Before the Personnel Appeals Board ("Practice Guide")⁴

³ The provisions of the GAOPA, 31 U.S.C. §§ 731-755, can be found online at <http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys> under United States Code, Title 31, Subtitle I, Chapter 7, Subchapters III and IV.

⁴ The Guide is available at the PAB website, www.pab.gao.gov.

The GAOPA requires that GAO establish a personnel management system that is consistent with the Executive branch under Chapter 71 of Title 5, United States Code (5 U.S.C. §§7101 et seq.). The statute specifically states that GAO's personnel management system shall provide:

- (1) a procedure that ensures that each officer and employee of the [GAO] may form, join, or assist, or not form, join, or assist, an employee organization freely and without fear of penalty or reprisal; and
- (2) for a labor-management relations program consistent with chapter 71 of title 5.

5 U.S.C. §732(e)1-2.

In the section describing the duties and powers of the PAB, the statute provides that the Board may "consider and order corrective or disciplinary action in a case arising from," among others, a decision of an appropriate unit of employees for collective bargaining, an election or certification of a collective bargaining representative, or a matter appealable to the Board under the labor-management relations program of GAO. See 31 U.S.C. §§753(a)(4)-(6) of the GAOPA.

Pursuant to the statute, the regulations of the Personnel Appeals Board include provisions governing labor-management relations for GAO employees. The regulations are set forth in 4 C.F.R. §§28.110 et seq. In general, the regulations are intended to be applied with due regard for relevant provisions of GAO Orders and with the objective of insuring that the GAO labor-management relations program is consistent with the Executive branch provisions that are administered by the Federal Labor Relations Authority. GAO Order 2711.1 also describes the scope and coverage of the Labor-Management Relations Program at GAO and its program administration, labor-management procedures, employee and management rights, and the powers and duties of the PAB as they relate to the program.

The Board's labor-management relations regulations address five areas: (1) representation proceedings; (2) unfair labor practice proceedings; (3) negotiability determinations; (4) standards of conduct for labor organizations; and (5) review of arbitration awards. In addition, the Board's role in resolving an impasse during negotiations is outlined in GAO Order 2711.1, Labor Management Relations. See GAO Order 2711.1, ch. 5, ¶1 and Appendix 1. A Guide to Dispute Resolution Procedures Used by the PAB (August 14, 2013). This Guide briefly describes these areas below.

Representation Proceedings

Introduction

In representation proceedings, the Board: (1) determines appropriate units of GAO employees for collective bargaining; (2) conducts elections in order to determine whether the employees in an appropriate unit wish to select a labor organization to represent them in collective bargaining; and (3) certifies or, in some circumstances, decertifies labor organizations that are selected as the designated exclusive bargaining representatives. Representation proceedings are initiated through the filing of Representation Petitions with the PAB Office of General Counsel. Matters relating to the filing and processing of Representation Petitions are addressed in this section.

Who May File Petitions

Representation Petitions may be filed by:

1. A labor organization seeking to be designated as the exclusive representative for collective bargaining by the GAO employees in an appropriate unit, or by a labor organization desiring to replace another labor organization that is currently an exclusive representative;
2. An employee or a group of employees (or an individual on his, her or their behalf) desiring a new election to determine whether a labor organization has ceased to represent a majority of employees in a unit;
3. GAO, if it has a good faith reason to doubt that a majority of employees in the bargaining unit wish to be represented by their current exclusive representative;
4. GAO or a labor organization currently recognized as an exclusive representative desiring the Board to clarify an earlier unit determination or certification; or
5. Any person seeking clarification of, or an amendment to, a certification then in effect or any other matter relating to representation.

When Representation Petitions May be Filed

Subject to the exceptions noted below, Representation Petitions may be filed at any time.

When a Representation Petition Would be Barred

There are four situations in which a Petition that seeks representation rights for employees in a unit may not be filed.

a. Election Bar

An election bar refers to a one-year period following a representation election during which there can be no other elections to challenge an exclusive representative's status. Even if the election fails to result in the selection of an exclusive representative, the one-year bar stands and there can be no other election held in the same unit. This bar provides a period of stability for the parties involved (employees, management, and the labor organization). During this period, the PAB will not consider any Representation Petitions for that unit or any subdivisions thereof.

b. Certification bar

A certification bar refers to a one-year period after a union is certified as the exclusive representative for a unit during which petitions by rival unions or employees seeking to replace or remove the incumbent union will be considered untimely (during this period, a union cannot be challenged by another labor organization). This bar protects a union from challenge in the absence of a negotiated agreement. The bar is designed to give the certified union an opportunity to negotiate a substantive agreement, after which the contract can become a bar to a Representation Petition, except during the contract's "105-60 day open period" (see below under "Contract bar").

c. Contract bars

The other two situations when Representation Petitions may not be filed are commonly known as contract bars. No Petition that seeks representation rights for employees in a unit may be filed in either of the following circumstances:

- 1. Where an existing collective bargaining agreement having a term of three years or less is in effect, unless the Petition for exclusive recognition is filed not more than 105 days and not less than 60 days before the expiration of the collective bargaining agreement (the "105-60 open period"); or
- 2. Where an existing collective bargaining agreement having a term of more than three years is in effect, unless the Petition for recognition is filed not more than 105 days and not less than 60 days before the third anniversary or any subsequent anniversary of the collective bargaining agreement.

Contents of Representation Petition

The contents of a Representation Petition vary depending on the purpose of the Petition.

a. Labor Organization Petition

If a labor organization seeking to be designated as an exclusive representative, or seeking to replace an exclusive representative, files a Representation Petition, the Petition must contain the following information:

1. A detailed description of the unit of employees to which the Petition applies, and their geographical locations within GAO, the classifications of employees to be included and excluded, and the number of employees involved;
2. Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the officers or contact persons for any other labor organizations known by the Petitioner to be interested in representing employees covered by the Petition, including a labor organization that is a party to a current collective bargaining agreement covering any employees in the unit;
3. Name, mailing address, and telephone number of the Petitioner. If a labor organization Petitioner is affiliated with a national organization, the local designation and national affiliation must be included;
4. A copy of the constitution and bylaws of the labor organization, a roster of the organization's officers and representatives, and a statement of the organization's objectives, together with a statement that these documents have also been supplied to GAO;
5. A declaration by the signer of the Petition, under penalties prescribed by the U.S. Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. §1001), that the Petition's contents are true and correct, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief;
6. The signature of the representative of the Petitioner, including title and telephone number; and
7. A showing that at least 30 percent of the employees in the proposed unit wish to be represented for purposes of collective bargaining by a labor organization.

Documents which may be submitted to establish the showing of interest may include union membership cards, dues records, signed statements, petitions or similar evidence acceptable to the Board indicating the employees' desire to be represented by the labor organization for the purpose of collective bargaining. Petitioner shall also include an alphabetical list of the names constituting the showing of interest.

b. Employees Decertification Petition

If an employee or group of employees files a Petition seeking an election to determine if a labor organization still represents a majority of employees in a unit, the same requirements as those set forth above apply, except that the information in paragraphs (4) and (7) does not need to be supplied. Additionally, such a Petition must include evidence satisfactory to the Board that at least 30 percent of the employees in the unit no longer wish to be represented by the labor organization currently certified as the exclusive bargaining representative.

c. Good Faith Doubt of Union's Majority Status

If GAO files a Petition alleging that it has a good faith reason to doubt that a majority of employees in the bargaining unit wish to be represented by their current exclusive representative, the same requirements as those set forth above apply, except that the information in paragraphs (4) and (7) need not be supplied. Additionally, such a Petition must include a detailed statement giving the objective considerations that support GAO's good faith reason for doubting the labor organization's continued status as the exclusive representative of the majority of the bargaining unit employees.

d. Petition Seeking Clarification of or Amendment to Certification

If a Petition seeking clarification of, or amendment to, a previously certified bargaining unit is filed, it must include the same information set forth above, except for the information in paragraphs (4) and (7). Also, instead of the information listed in paragraph (1) above, the Petition must identify the existing unit and the date the organization was recognized by GAO or certified as the exclusive representative, and must explain the changes desired in the unit and the reasons for those changes.

How and Where Petitions are Filed

Representation Petitions must be filed with the PAB/OGC and must be in writing. A Petition may be in letter form if the letter includes all the information required, as stated above.

Pre-investigation Proceedings

Once a valid Petition is filed, the PAB/OGC will notify any labor organization—that the parties have identified as being affected by issues raised—that a Petition has been filed with the PAB/OGC. The PAB/OGC shall request GAO to notify employees as to the existence of the Petition by posting a notice for at least 10 days in locations appropriately selected to reach all employees in the unit covered by the Petition, such as all employee bulletin boards and the GAO intranet where notices for employees in the unit are customarily posted. The notice is to include a request that the PAB/OGC be notified of the existence of any other interested parties.

GAO then gives the PAB/OGC any information in its possession concerning other potentially interested labor organizations, copies of relevant correspondence, and copies of existing or recently expired agreements covering any employees in the unit. GAO also provides the PAB/OGC with a list of employees it believes should be included in the unit, together with their classifications, and the names and classifications of those employees it proposes to exclude from the unit and the reasons for the proposed exclusions.

All interested parties then meet as soon as possible after the expiration of the 10-day posting period and attempt to resolve any issues in controversy.

A labor organization may request to intervene, i.e., become an intervenor, in any representation proceeding by giving the PAB/OGC, within the 10-day period, evidence that it represents at least 10 percent of the employees in the proposed unit or that it is the exclusive representative of the employees involved. If the PAB/OGC denies such a request to intervene, the labor organization may appeal the denial to the Board. Such an appeal must be filed with the Clerk of the Board within 10 days of service of the PAB/OGC's determination.

How Representation Petitions are Processed

After the 10-day posting period has expired, and after the PAB/OGC considers an appropriate period has elapsed for consultation among the parties to resolve or identify issues, the PAB/OGC prepares a report for the Board. The report may recommend:

1. Approval of any agreement entered into by the parties during their consultations, including an agreement on the appropriate unit(s); or a joint request for approval of an election agreement setting forth the appropriate unit, the eligibility period, method of election, dates, hours, or locations of the election to determine which labor organization, if any, the employees select to be their exclusive bargaining representative;
2. Dismissal of the Petition as being without merit; or
3. Issuance of a Notice of Hearing⁵ for the purpose of disposing of the remaining issues raised in the Petition.

After the report for the Board is prepared, the PAB/OGC provides copies to all interested parties. Unless all parties agree to a shorter period, they have 15 days to file a written response with the Board.

As expeditiously as feasible after the expiration of this period, but no later than 30 days thereafter, the Board will either approve the report and order appropriate steps to carry out its recommendations, or remand the report to the PAB/OGC with further instructions. For example, upon examination of the PAB/OGC report and recommendation, the Board might determine that a hearing is necessary and set a schedule including a pre-hearing conference. The Board might also order a re-posting to employees if circumstances have changed since the original posting.

⁵ A hearing is an official proceeding whereby the parties attempt to prove specific issues of fact to support their theories of legal entitlement.

Where a hearing is ordered, the Board will designate a Board member to act as an administrative judge. A Notice of Hearing will be served on all interested parties.⁶ The Board will advise the parties of a hearing date and any other information relevant to the issues remaining. The report of the administrative judge following the hearing will include findings of fact and recommendations. After the Board receives the report from the administrative judge, and after it gives the parties an opportunity for comment, the Board will issue a Decision and Order determining the appropriate unit, directing an election, dismissing the Petition, or making some other appropriate disposition of the matter.

The Board encourages parties to reach stipulations or agreements for elections on representation matters or issues, as appropriate. This can eliminate the need for a hearing or reduce the number of issues to be decided.

While decisions of the Board regarding employment discrimination or prohibited personnel practices are appealable to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, ⁶ The Notice includes the official caption of the case—the name by which the case will be known in Board proceedings—the case docket number (beginning with the year filed), and the official service list for the case. The official service list provides the name and address of the respective designated representative for each side. These are the individuals who must be served with a copy of all pleadings, discovery requests, and official issuances of the Board. The parties are responsible for providing written notification to the Board and to one another of any changes in the service list's names or addresses. All subsequent filings should include the official caption, case number and a certificate of service in conformity with the service list (specifying how and where service was made). The filing must be signed by the party or the representative of the party.

final Decisions and Orders issued by the Board in representation proceedings are not considered subject to judicial review.

How Elections are Conducted

The Board supervises any election it orders to be conducted. The PAB may conduct the election or delegate ministerial functions relating to an election to any qualified independent organization, to members of the Board's staff, or to temporary employees hired for this purpose and not associated with the parties.

Notice of Election

As directed by the Board, GAO will post appropriate Notices setting forth details of the election. The Notices will state:

1. The purpose of the election;
2. The voting unit;
3. That the election is to be held by secret ballot and how that will be conducted, including whether there will be absentee voting and whether there will be voting by mail;
4. Eligibility rules;
5. Information for requesting special assistance;
6. Information regarding challenge of voters;
7. Information regarding authorized observers; and
8. Any other information concerning the election process.

The Notice will also contain information regarding the rights of employees and a sample of the ballot for employees to review prior to the election.

Conduct of Election

Through its agents chosen to conduct the election, the Board:

1. Gives all qualified voters the opportunity to participate in a secret ballot election with appropriate due process safeguards;
2. Offers all qualified voters the opportunity to vote for any labor organization on the ballot, or to reject all labor organizations;
3. Permits all parties to appoint observers⁷ to observe the conduct of the election;
4. Provides for all parties to challenge the eligibility of any voters, resolves the challenged ballots where possible, and impounds unresolved challenged ballots, subject to later determination of eligibility, if necessary; and
5. Certifies to all parties the results of the election five business days after the Tally of Ballots, if no challenges or objections are filed.

Challenged Ballots

A party or the Board may, for good cause, challenge the eligibility of any person to participate in the election prior to the employee voting. An individual whose eligibility to vote is in dispute will be given the opportunity to vote a challenged ballot.

⁷ GAO management officials and Union officers may not serve as observers.

The challenged ballot is secret and is sealed in an envelope marked accordingly. If the parties and the Board are unable to resolve the challenged ballot(s) prior to the tally of ballots, the unresolved challenged ballot(s) will be impounded and preserved until a determination can be made, if necessary, by the Board.

Tally of Ballots

When the election is concluded, the parties should attempt to reach agreement as to the eligibility of any voters, if possible, prior to the counting of the ballots. The Board shall count the ballots, prepare a Tally of Ballots, and serve the Tally of Ballots on the parties. In representation elections, questions concerning representation shall be determined by the majority of the valid ballots cast.

If unresolved challenged ballots are determinative of the outcome of the election, the Board shall investigate and issue a Decision and Order.

Objections to the Election

If objections are filed, they will be resolved at the same time as determinative challenged ballots. Any party may file objections to the procedural conduct of the election or to conduct that may have improperly affected the results of the election.

Objections must be filed with the Clerk of the Board within five (5) working days after the Tally of Ballots is served. The objecting party must serve the objections, without supporting evidence, on all parties. Within ten (10) days of filing the objections, the objecting party must file with the Clerk evidence, including signed statements, documents, and other support establishing clear and concise reasons for the objections. The objecting party bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence.⁸ Upon receipt of objections, the Board will send a letter to the other party, notifying it of objections, naming the objecting party and requesting the position of that party within five (5) days (with supporting evidence). Should the Board need additional evidence to resolve the objections, an investigation may be conducted or a hearing on objections may be held by an administrative judge.

Results of the Election

The Executive Director, or designee, shall then issue a report of the results of the election to the Board. Upon receiving the report, the Board shall:

1. If necessary, rule on the challenges and adjust the results accordingly;
2. Order a runoff or an additional election, if the Board deems it appropriate, where the results of the original election are inconclusive because no choice on the ballot has secured a majority of the valid votes cast. Not more than one additional and one runoff election may be held;
3. Issue an Order announcing the results of the election with either a Certification of the Results of the Election or a Certification of Representative, as appropriate.

⁸ Preponderance of the evidence means that degree of relevant evidence which a reasonable person, considering the record as a whole, would accept as sufficient to support a conclusion that the matter asserted is more likely to be true than not.

Runoff or Additional Election

The Board may order a runoff election where one or more of the labor organizations on the ballot have received the vote of at least 30 percent of the employees eligible to vote, but none has gained a majority of the votes cast. The runoff election will be between the two choices receiving the largest and the second largest number of votes in the original election.

The Board may order an additional election where there is a tie vote between all of the choices on the ballot, or where a runoff election is not feasible because there is a tie between the choices receiving the second most votes in the original election. The additional election will include all the choices that appeared on the original ballot.

Unfair Labor Practice Proceedings

Introduction

The Board has authority under 31 U.S.C. §753(a)(6) to “consider and order corrective or disciplinary action in a case arising from ... a matter appealable to the Board under the labor-management relations program under [31 U.S.C. §] 732(e)(2) including a labor practice prohibited” under § 732(e)(1). The labor-management relations program established by the Comptroller General is required to provide that each employee of GAO has the right to form, join or assist, or not form, join or assist an employee organization, freely and without penalty or reprisal consistent with Chapter 71 of U.S. Code Title 5. A violation of the program established by the Comptroller General may constitute an unfair labor practice (ULP).

Unfair labor practices (ULPs) are actions taken by GAO or by a union that are defined in GAO Order 2711.1.

Examples of Potential Management Violations

- Interfering with, restraining, or coercing any employee in the employee's exercise of his or her rights under GAO Order 2711.1;
- Encouraging or discouraging membership in any labor organization by discrimination in connection with hiring, tenure, promotion, or other conditions of employment;
- Sponsoring, controlling, or assisting any labor organization, except to provide requested customary and routine facilities for the union's use on an impartial basis;
- Disciplining or otherwise retaliating against an employee because the employee filed a charge, complaint, affidavit, or petition, or gave any information or testimony with respect to labor or management issues;
- Refusing to bargain in good faith with a labor organization as required;
- Failing or refusing to cooperate in impasse procedures and decisions as required;
- Enforcing a rule or order that is in conflict with an applicable collective bargaining agreement; or
- Failing or refusing to comply with any provision of GAO Order 2711.1.

Examples of Potential Union Violations

- Interfering with, restraining, or coercing any employee in the employee's exercise of his or her rights under GAO Order 2711.1;
- Causing or attempting to cause GAO to discriminate against any employee in the employee's exercise of any right under the Order;
- Coercing, disciplining, fining or attempting to coerce a member of a labor organization as punishment, reprisal or for the purpose of hindering or impeding the member's work performance or productivity as an employee or the discharge of the member's duties as an employee;
- Discriminating against an employee with regard to the terms or conditions of membership in the labor organization on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, veterans' preference or non-preference status, disability, political affiliation, marital status, or sexual orientation;
- Breaching the duty of fair representation;
- Refusing to negotiate in good faith with GAO as required;
- Failing or refusing to cooperate in impasse procedures and decisions as required;
- Engaging in illegal picketing or strikes;
- Failing or refusing to comply with any provisions of GAO Order 2711.1.

An allegation that a provision of GAO Order 2711.1 is inconsistent with Chapter 71 of Title 5, United States Code, and thereby denies an employee or labor organization rights comparable to those granted by Chapter 71 of Title 5, United States Code, may also be raised under the unfair labor practice procedure.

Filing a Charge Alleging an Unfair Labor Practice with PAB/OGC

Allegations that unfair labor practices have been committed are generally subject to the procedures appearing in subpart B of the Board's regulations for the filing of charges with the PAB/OGC, the investigation by the PAB/OGC, and the Board's disposition. 4 C.F.R. §28.8 et seq. See also Guide to Practice Before the Personnel Appeals Board at the Board's website, www.pab.gao.gov. However, the applicable time limitations regarding allegations of unfair labor practices are specific for ULP cases and, therefore, are described below.

An individual, labor organization or the Agency may file an unfair labor practice charge with the PAB/OGC. However, unless it is alleged that a labor organization has engaged in an unfair labor practice, any such charge must first be filed directly with the party against whom the charge is directed (the charged party). Informal attempts shall be made to resolve the matter. If it has not been resolved within 30 days of its submission, or if a labor organization is accused of an unfair labor practice, the charging party may file a charge with the PAB General Counsel. The PAB/OGC then investigates the charge and makes a determination as to whether there are reasonable grounds to believe that an unfair labor practice was committed. If the PAB General Counsel finds that there are reasonable grounds to believe a ULP was committed, the General Counsel will then file a Petition with the Board.

Mediation

Upon receipt of a charge, the PAB's General Counsel will notify both the charging party and GAO that mediation is available to resolve their dispute, that mediation may be the most beneficial means of resolving the dispute, and that either party may request mediation within 14 days of the notification. A request for mediation must be in writing and must be filed with the Board's Office of General Counsel within the 14 days.

The Board's General Counsel will forward a request for mediation to the other party, who may accept or decline the request to participate in mediation within 7 days of receipt of the request. If the parties agree to mediation, the General Counsel will advise them that the period of time for the investigation will be extended for the length of the mediation process up to 30 days. During mediation, the charge will not be investigated.

Once the parties have agreed to mediation, the General Counsel will forward the original written request to the PAB Executive Director (or his or her delegatee) who will designate a mediator within 5 business days of receipt of the written request from the PAB General Counsel.

The Hearing Process

Once a ULP Petition has been filed, the Board assigns a Board member as an administrative judge (AJ) to begin the hearing process and allow parties to conduct discovery under the Board regulations.⁹ If appropriate, the AJ may require that settlement discussions be conducted. After discovery is completed, the AJ conducts a hearing where both parties may present their evidence. The AJ then issues an initial decision with findings of fact and a determination of whether a ULP occurred. The parties may file exceptions to the initial decision, which are reviewed by the full Board. The Board then reviews the record and issues a final decision. The final decision on a ULP is appealable to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Time Limitations for Filing Allegations of Unfair Labor Practices

Generally, no Petition may be filed based on any alleged unfair labor practice which occurred more than 6 months before the filing of an unfair labor practice charge with the charged party, as provided in Chapter 4, ¶2, GAO Order 2711.1 (August 14, 2013), or more than 9 months before the filing of a charge with the PAB/OGC.

The charge must be filed with the charged party during the 6-month period beginning on the day of the discovery of the alleged unfair labor practice by the charging party. An exception may be made and a charge will be considered timely filed if the Board determines that the charging party was prevented from filing the charge during the 6-month period by reason of:

1. Any failure of the charged party to perform a duty owed to the charging party; or ⁹ For more detailed information regarding hearing procedures, please review the Board's Guide to Practice Before the Personnel Appeals Board, which is available on the Board's website.

2. Any concealment which prevented discovery of the alleged unfair labor practice during the 6-month period.

Standards of Conduct for Labor Organizations

Standards of Conduct for a Labor Organization Seeking to Represent GAO Employees

GAO accords recognition only to labor organizations that are free from corrupt influences and from influences opposed to basic democratic principles. An organization is not required to prove it is free from such influence if it is subject to governing requirements calling for the maintenance of:

1. Democratic procedures;
2. Freedom from totalitarian influence;
3. Independence on the part of its agents and officers from any business or financial interests which represent conflicts of interest or potential conflicts of interest; and
4. Fiscal integrity.

A labor organization representing employees at GAO must adhere to principles set forth in the regulations issued by the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Employment Standards regarding standards of conduct for labor organizations in the public sector.¹⁰

4 C.F.R. §28.123; 29 C.F.R. Parts 457-459. The Department of Labor regulations

¹⁰ These standards are consistent with the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act (LMRDA) which governs the private sector and U.S. Postal Service employee organizations and/or unions. Section 7120 of Title VII of the Civil Service Reform Act sets forth the standards of conduct for Federal sector labor organizations. 5 U.S.C. §7120.

establish standards of conduct similar to provisions under the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act (LMRDA), 29 U.S.C. §401 et seq. For example, the standards of conduct include a Bill of Rights for Federal sector union members and incorporate reporting and election provisions.

Reports Filed by Labor Organizations

A labor organization that has or seeks recognition as a representative of GAO employees must file with the Board its constitution and bylaws, information reports regarding the organization's structure, practice, and procedures, financial reports which disclose the organization's financial condition for the preceding year and trusteeship reports. 29 C.F.R. Parts 402, 403 and 408. These documents should be filed with the PAB Office of General Counsel with any Petition for Representation or immediately after the labor organization is subject to the Board regulations.

Filing Allegations of Violation of Standards of Conduct

Complaints of violations of this requirement are filed with the Board's Office of General Counsel. See 4 C.F.R. §28.8 et seq.; see also Guide to Practice. The Board may require a labor organization to cease and desist from violations of standards of conduct provisions and may require a labor organization to take such action as the Board considers appropriate to carry out the policies of these provisions.

Individuals not Allowed to Participate in the Management of a Labor Organization or Act as a Representative of a Labor Organization

The following individuals may not participate in the management of a labor organization or act as a representative of a labor organization: (1) a management official; (2) a supervisor; (3) a confidential employee; or (4) any employee if the participation or activity would result in a conflict or apparent conflict of interest or would otherwise be incompatible with law or with the official duties of the employee.

Participation in a Strike or Certain Picketing

It is considered an unfair labor practice if a labor organization by omission or commission willfully and intentionally calls for or participates in a strike, work stoppage or slowdown, or pickets in a manner which interferes with the operations of a government agency, or condones such activity. If the Board finds that a labor organization has committed this unfair labor practice, the Board will revoke the certification or recognition status of the labor organization or take any other appropriate disciplinary action.

Charging a Labor Organization with Violations of Standards of Conduct

The PAB/OGC may charge a labor organization with violations of standards of conduct. The Board will conduct proceedings with regard to such a charge. Should a violation be found the Board may require a labor organization to take such action as it deems necessary to carry out the policies of these provisions.

Negotiability Determinations

Negotiability Disputes

A negotiability dispute is a disagreement between GAO and a union over whether a contract proposal is subject to negotiation as part of the requirement to bargain in good faith. When GAO claims that a contract proposal made by a union during bargaining involves a subject that is outside the duty to bargain, the union may file a negotiability appeal with the Board.

Filing an Appeal of a Negotiability Determination with the Board

When a proposal is declared nonnegotiable, the party submitting the proposal gives the other party, before the close of negotiations, a Request for Formal Negotiability Determination, setting forth the proposal in question. Within 10 days, the party declaring the proposal nonnegotiable delivers to the other party a Formal Negotiability Determination stating the basis for the Determination.

A Formal Negotiability Determination may be appealed to the Board within 20 days of its service by filing a negotiability appeal (Petition for Review) with the Clerk of the Board, with an original and three copies. A complete statement of argument from the Petitioner should accompany the negotiability appeal. Filing by email (pab@gao.gov) is permissible if the requisite number of copies is provided forthwith to the PAB. Filings by U.S. mail, or personal delivery, should be sent to:

Personnel Appeals Board, GAO
Room 1566
441 G Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20548

Faxes should be sent to (202) 512-7525.

The Board serves the Respondent (the other party) with a copy of the negotiability appeal and accompanying argument. The Respondent then replies to the negotiability appeal within 20 days of its receiving the negotiability appeal.

One or more member(s) of the Board then review(s) the arguments, hold(s) a hearing if necessary, and issue(s) a decision. The decision becomes final in accordance with the Board's Regulations. 4 C.F.R. §28.87. This final decision is appealable to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Bargaining Impasses

Negotiation Impasses

The resolution of negotiation impasses is addressed in Chapter 5, paragraph 1 of GAO Order 2711.1 (August 14, 2013) and in the Appendix to that Order.

Pursuant to that Order, after representatives of GAO and of an exclusive representative have been engaged in collective bargaining and have been unsuccessful in reaching an agreement, GAO and/or the exclusive representative shall request assistance from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS) in the resolution of the impasse. The FMCS has discretion to determine what services and assistance it will provide.

If voluntary arrangements, including those with the FMCS or other third party mediation, fail to resolve a negotiation impasse, the PAB may become involved (see Procedures, infra) in the process if:

- (1) either party requests the PAB to consider the matter by filing a request;
- (2) the FMCS or the Board's Executive Director requests the PAB to undertake consideration of the matter; or
- (3) the parties jointly file a request that the PAB approve any procedure, which they have agreed to adopt, for binding arbitration of the negotiation impasse (see Procedures, infra).

Upon receipt of any of these requests, the PAB or its designee will promptly investigate any impasse, consulting with the parties and with any mediation service utilized. After due consideration, the PAB shall:

- (1) decline to assert jurisdiction if it finds there is no impasse or there is other good cause for not asserting jurisdiction (such as duty to bargain issues and/or a blocking Unfair Labor Practice) and so advise the parties in writing, stating its reasons; or
- (2) assert jurisdiction and issue an order directing the procedure to be followed for the resolution of the impasse under Chapter 5, paragraph 1(c)(3) and maintenance of the status quo.

Once jurisdiction is asserted, pursuant to Chapter 5, paragraph 1(c)(3), through any methods and procedures it deems appropriate, the PAB will assist the parties in resolving the impasse.

Upon receipt of a request for approval of a binding arbitration procedure, which the parties have agreed to adopt, the PAB or its designee will promptly conduct an investigation, consulting when necessary with the parties and with any mediation service utilized. After due consideration, the PAB shall promptly approve or disapprove the request, normally within 5 workdays.

Filing a Petition for Resolution of Impasse

a. Parties should file a Petition or Request for assistance, an original and 3 copies, with the Clerk of the Board using the procedures outlined below. Filing by email (pab@gao.gov) is permissible if the requisite number of copies is provided forthwith to the PAB. Filings by U.S. mail or personal delivery, should be sent to:

Personnel Appeals Board, GAO
Room 1566
441 G Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20548

Faxes should be sent to (202) 512-7525.

The Petition or Request should state:

(1) the issue(s) at impasse and a full and detailed statement of the party's position thereon;

(2) the number, length and dates of negotiation and mediation sessions held;

(3) the name and address of the mediator(s); and

(4) the names and contact information of the person(s) that will be representing the parties including name, title, mailing and email addresses and phone numbers.

(5) a certificate of service indicating that it was simultaneously served on the other party and the method of service used.

PAB Procedures for Resolution of Impasse

a. The Board may utilize further written submissions, informal conferences with a PAB member, an order to show cause, fact-finding, arbitration or mediation-arbitration by a PAB member.

b. Where appropriate, under special circumstances or in the event of a novel issue, the Board may issue a Report and Recommendations for Settlement before a final decision is issued. This provides the parties an opportunity to consider and comment on a recommended settlement.

c. The Board may use "final-offer selection," if appropriate. This process limits the decision-maker to selecting between the parties' final offers on an issue-by-issue, article-by-article, or package basis, insofar as they otherwise appear to be legal. "Final-offer selection" is intended to provide the parties with an incentive for making their proposals as reasonable as possible. If it is used in connection with other procedures, the parties will be notified in advance.

d. If the parties do not arrive at a settlement as a result of or during the actions outlined above the PAB will promptly serve the parties with a notice of any final action, generally in the form of a written Decision and Order. The PAB's final action is binding on the parties during the term of their agreement, unless the parties themselves reach an alternative resolution.

See Addendum A, infra, GAO Order 2711.1 (August 14, 2013), Appendix 1, A Guide to Dispute Resolution Procedures Used By the PAB, for a description of options available to the PAB in resolving impasses.

Review of Arbitration Awards

Introduction

Either the labor organization or the Agency may invoke arbitration to resolve grievances pursuant to a grievance procedure under a collective bargaining agreement. If arbitration is invoked, an arbitrator is selected pursuant to the collective bargaining agreement's provisions to issue an award resolving the grievance submitted to arbitration. If either party disagrees with the arbitrator's award, it may challenge the award by filing an exception to the award with the Clerk of the Board.

Time Limits

The time limit for filing an exception to an arbitration award is 30 days from the service of the award on the filing party. A copy of the exception must be served on the other party when it is filed with the Board.

An opposition to the exception may be filed by a party within 30 days after the service of the exception. A copy of the opposition must be served on the other party at the same time.

Filing an Exception

Parties should file an exception in the form of a Petition, an original and 3 copies, with the Clerk of the Board. Filing by email (pab@gao.gov) is permissible if the requisite number of copies is provided forthwith to the PAB. Filings by U.S. mail or personal delivery, should be sent to:

Personnel Appeals Board, GAO
Room 1566
441 G Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20548

Faxes should be sent to (202) 512-7525.

An exception must be a dated, self-contained document which sets forth the following in full:

1. A statement of the grounds on which review is requested;
2. Evidence or rulings bearing on the issues before the Board;
3. Arguments in support of the stated grounds, together with specific reference to the pertinent documents and citations of authorities;

4. A legible copy of the award of the arbitrator and legible copies of other pertinent documents; and
5. The name and address of the arbitrator.

Grounds for Review of an Arbitrator's Award

The Board will review an arbitrator's award to which an exception has been filed to determine if the award is deficient—

1. Because it is contrary to any law, rule or regulation (including GAO Orders); or
2. On other grounds similar to those applied by Federal courts in private sector labor-management disputes.

When the Board will not Consider an Exception to an Arbitration Award

The Board will not consider an exception where:

1. The award relates to an action based on unacceptable performance covered under 5 U.S.C. §4303;
2. The award relates to a removal, suspension for more than 14 days, reduction in grade, reduction in pay, or furlough of 30 days or less covered under 5 U.S.C. §7512; or
3. The exception is based on a GAO rule which was not introduced into the record submitted to the arbitrator.

Board's Decision and Order on Exceptions

In the decision and order, the Board will take such action and make such recommendations concerning the award as it considers necessary, consistent with applicable laws, rules, or regulations.

GLOSSARY

Appropriate Unit – A group of employees which a labor union represents or seeks to represent for collective bargaining purposes and which has (1) a clear and identifiable community of interest; (2) promotes effective dealings with the agency; and (3) ensures efficiency of the operations of the Agency. 5 U.S.C. § 7112(a).

Arbitrator – An impartial third party to whom the parties to an agreement refer their disputes for resolution.

Bargaining Impasse – When the parties have reached a deadlock in negotiations they are said to have reached an impasse in negotiations.

Bargaining Unit – A group of eligible employees certified by the Personnel Appeals Board as sharing a sufficient community of interest to comprise an appropriate group to be represented by a labor organization for purposes of collective bargaining.

Binding Arbitration – The law requires that collective bargaining agreements contain a negotiated grievance procedure that terminates in binding arbitration of unresolved grievances.

Certification – The determination by the PAB of the results of an election or the recognition of the labor organization by the PAB as the exclusive representative based on the mandatory procedure for determining such a representative.

Challenged Ballots – Ballots that are challenged by election observers on the ground that the person casting the ballot is not eligible to vote because, e.g., he or she is not included in the bargaining unit, or is a management official, supervisor, confidential employee or engaged in personnel work.

After tallying the uncontested ballots, if it is determined that there are enough challenged ballots to affect the outcome of the election, the Board, or designee, will rule on each challenged ballot to see whether it should be counted.

Collective Bargaining Agreement – A written agreement between an employer and a labor organization, usually for a definite length of time, defining terms and conditions of employment, rights of employees and labor organizations, and procedures to be followed in settling disputes or resolving issues that arise during the life of the agreement.

Confidential Employee – An employee who acts in a confidential capacity with respect to an individual who formulates or effectuates management policies in the field of labor-management relations.

Contract Bar – No Petition that seeks representation rights for employees in a unit may be filed in either of the following circumstances:

1. Where an existing collective bargaining agreement having a term of three years or less is in effect, unless the Petition for exclusive recognition is filed not more than 105 days and not less than 60 days before the expiration of the collective bargaining agreement (the “105-60 open period”); or
2. Where an existing collective bargaining agreement having a term of more than three years is in effect, unless the Petition for recognition is filed not more than 105 days and not less than 60 days before the third anniversary or any subsequent anniversary of the collective bargaining agreement.

Decertification – PAB withdrawal of a labor organization’s recognition as an exclusive representative. An agency or the employees in the bargaining unit can initiate a request for decertification.

Election Agreement – The agreement entered into by the agency and the union(s) setting forth the terms for a representation election including the scope of the bargaining unit, the eligibility of potential voters, the time(s), date(s) and place(s) of the election, challenged ballot procedures, mail balloting (if used), position on the ballot, payroll period ending date for voter eligibility, election observers, and the like. This agreement is subject to approval by the appropriate PAB official.

Exception to Arbitration Award – Under 4 C.F.R. §28.124, either party to arbitration may file with the Board an exception (appeal) to an arbitrator’s award because 1) the award is contrary to law, rule, or regulation (including GAO orders); or 2) on other grounds similar to those applied by Federal courts in labor-management relations cases.

Exclusive Representative – The union that is certified as the exclusive representative of a unit of employees for purposes of collective bargaining.

Grievance – Any complaint by any employee or labor organization relating to the employment of the employee(s). The term includes any complaint concerning the effect or interpretation or claim of breach of a collective bargaining agreement; or any claimed violation, misinterpretation, or misapplication of any law, rule or regulation affecting conditions of employment.

Grievance Arbitration – A third party procedure which may interpret language in a negotiated agreement, or otherwise resolve grievances under the contract. This form of arbitration determines what the rights of the parties are with respect to the negotiated agreement, laws, rules or regulations.

Grievance Procedure – A systematic procedure, devised by the parties to the agreement, by which a grievance moves from one level of authority to the next higher level until it is settled, withdrawn, or referred to arbitration. A collective bargaining agreement must contain a grievance procedure terminating in final and binding arbitration.

Impasse – A situation in which the parties are unable to reach a negotiated agreement despite a good faith effort to do so.

Informational Picketing – Demonstrating, usually near the place of employment, to publicize the existence of a labor-management dispute. Informational picketing is directed toward advising the public about the issue in dispute. This is permissible as long as the picketing does not interfere with agency operations, and is conducted outside an employee's established duty hours or the employee is in an approved leave status. This is not to be confused with a "strike," which is an action prohibited for Federal employees.

Intervention/Intervenor – The action taken by a competing labor organization (intervenor) to place itself as a contender on the ballot for a representation election originally initiated by another party. Non-incumbent intervenors need only produce a 10 per cent showing of interest to be included on the ballot.

Judicial Review – The review by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit instituted by a person aggrieved by certain final orders issued by the PAB. Judicial review may not be invoked regarding most arbitration decisions reviewed by the PAB or regarding appropriate unit determinations.

Labor Organization (Union) – An organization composed of employees for the purpose of dealing with an agency concerning terms and conditions of employment.

Mediator – A neutral third party who assists the Agency and Union in resolving their differences.

Negotiability – Refers to whether a given topic is subject to bargaining between an agency and the union. The PAB makes the final decision regarding whether a subject is negotiable or nonnegotiable. This decision is not appealable.

Negotiability Determination (Petition for Review) – If GAO contends that a union proposal is contrary to law or applicable regulation, or is otherwise nonnegotiable under the statute, it may declare the proposal non-negotiable. Pursuant to 4 C.F.R. §28.122 the union may appeal the agency's declaration of non-negotiability to the PAB.

Negotiated Grievance Procedure – A contractual procedure agreed to by the negotiating parties for the resolution of grievances of bargaining unit employees.

Objections to Election – Objections filed with the PAB contesting election results because of alleged irregularities in the conduct of a representation election. If the objections are sustained, the PAB could set aside the election results and order, inter alia, a new election.

Open Period – The 45-day period (105-60 days prior to expiration of agreement) when the union holding exclusive recognition is subject to challenge by a rival union or by unit employees who no longer want to be represented by the union. The open period is an exception to the contract bar rule.

Ratification – Formal approval of a newly negotiated agreement by vote of the labor organization members affected.

Representation Election – Secret-ballot election to determine whether the employees in an appropriate unit shall have a union as their exclusive representative.

Standards of Conduct for Labor Organizations – Standards regarding internal democratic practices, fiscal responsibility, and procedures to which a union must adhere to qualify for recognition.

Strike – A temporary stoppage of work by a group of employees in connection with a labor dispute. Strikes by Federal employees are specifically prohibited by Federal law and constitute an unfair labor practice under GAO Order 2711.1. Work slowdowns, sickouts, picketing if it interferes with the Agency operations, and related tactics are also prohibited.